Bill C-10 is a key element in Canada's New Government's overall criminal justice legislative agenda. It demonstrates our continued commitment to protect Canadian families and make communities safer by cracking down on guns and gangs. This Bill was introduced in the House of Commons well over a year ago and I am pleased to see that it is finally making progress through Parliament. The Bill was delayed at committee by the Liberals and the Bloc Quebecois for 252 days – and ultimately all its measures were removed – but we were able to restore the Bill with the support of the NDP when it went back to the House of Commons. Bill C-10 will toughen sentences for serious gun offences for both "use" offences, such as attempted murder, robbery and extortion, and "non-use" offences, such as firearm trafficking and smuggling. For "use" offences, the Bill now proposes a mandatory penalty of 5 years on a first offence and 7 years on a second or subsequent offence.

Since taking office, Canada's New Government has brought forward 12 justice bills, including legislation to restrict conditional sentences, to better fight alcohol- and drug-impaired driving, to create tougher laws against street racing, and to raise the age of consent from 14 to 16 years to protect youth from adult sexual predators. Despite repeated efforts to move this legislation through the House of Commons, thus far, only two justice bills have become law. Canada's New Government will continue to work to pass these outstanding pieces of legislation to protect our streets and communities and build a stronger, safer, better Canada.

The people of York-Simcoe consistently tell me they want a government that is serious about tackling crime. That's why I've made it a priority as Government House Leader to schedule our justice bills for debate and work to achieve their passage.

Safe, low crime communities are the type of place we all want to live in and raise our families. That's what I'm working to make reality.

County purchases Hardwood Hills properties

Midhurst/ June 4, 2007 – The County of Simcoe and the owner/operators of Hardwood Hills jointly announced the purchase of the Oro-Medonte-based recreational facility by the Corporation of the County of Simcoe on June 1st, 2007. The agreement to purchase means that the County will acquire over 300 acres known as Hardwood Hills with over 250 acres being added directly to Simcoe County Forests.

As part of the purchase agreement, the County will lease the property back to Hardwood Hills for existing recreational uses for one year with the intent to sell a portion of the properties for continued long term recreational use.

"This is a win-win solution for the County of Simcoe, the operators of Hardwood Hills and the Township of Oro-Medonte," stated Warden Tony Guergis. "Simcoe County is widely recognized for its Simcoe County Forests and our award-winning forestry management practices. Our Forests also provide significant opportunities for recreational uses so the addition of 255 acres in this prime area, which will now connect two pre-existing County Forest tracts, is certainly welcomed by County Council.

"Recreation is important in Simcoe County and we are pleased to come to this agreement. Hardwood Hills will continue to operate as is for a year during which time the County will seek to find another longer term proprietor," added Warden Guergis.

"I am delighted to reach this resolution with the County of Simcoe," stated Kim Viney, one of Hardwood Hills' two principals. "It is very important to me that Hardwood Hills, a facility that I helped develop into a world-class cross county skiing and mountain biking facility will be able to continue as an important tourism site for the County."

Health unit asking for dead bird sightings

The Simcoe Muskoka District Health Unit reminds the public to report any dead birds to the health unit as part of its West Nile virus (WNV) monitoring program.

The virus is carried by birds, which may then be bitten by mosquitoes. A spike in dead birds may indicate that the virus is active in the community and that the public needs to take precautions to protect their health. To report sightings of dead birds, call Your Health Connection weekdays 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at 721-7520, 1-877-721-7520, or click on www.simcoemuskokahealth.org to report dead birds online.
